Coffee corner Merry Christmas

Mark Twain once encountered a friend at the races who said; "I'm broke. I wish you'd buy me a ticket back to town." Twain said, "Well, I'm pretty broke myself, but I'll tell you what to do. You hide under my seat, and I'll cover you with my legs." It was agreed. Twain then went to the ticket office and bought two tickets. When the train was underway and the supposed stowaway was snug under the seat, the conductor came by, and Twain gave him the two tickets. "Where is the other passenger?" asked the conductor. Twain tapped his forehead and said in a loud voice, "That is my friend's ticket. He's a little eccentric and likes to ride under the seat."

One beautiful Sunday morning, a priest announced to his congregation: "My good people, I have here in my hands three Sermons a $100 sermon that lasts five minutes, a $50 sermon that lasts fifteen minutes, and a $10 sermon that lasts a full hour. "Now, we'll take the collection and see which one I'll deliver."

A little boy had been pawing over a stationer's stock of greeting cards for some time when a clerk asked; "Just what is it you're looking for, sonny? Birthday Greeting? Message to a sick friend? Anniversary congratulations to your mom and dad?" The boy shook his head "no" and answered wistfully, "Got anything in the line of blank report cards?"

"Is it true, Mom? I heard that in some parts of Africa a woman doesn't know her husband until she marries him?"

At one point during a game, the coach said to one of his young players, "Do you understand what cooperation is? What a team is?"

The little boy nodded in the affirmative.

"Do you understand that what matters is whether we win together as a team?" The little boy nodded yes.

"So," the coach continued, "when a strike is called, or you're out at first, you don't argue or curse or attack the umpire. Do you understand all that?"

Again the little boy nodded. "Good," said the coach. "Now go over there and explain it to your mother."

The one thing that unites all human beings, regardless of age, gender, religion, economic status or ethnic background, is that, deep down inside, we ALL believe that we are above-average drivers.

When trouble arises and things look bad, there is always one individual who perceives a solution and is willing to take command. Very often, that individual is crazy.

We believe that laughter is a vital part of living. Your kind support of us and support of our advertisers makes this all possible.

A nervous young minister, new to the church, told the flock, "For my text today, I will take the words, 'and they fed five men with five thousand loaves of bread and two thousand fishes.'"

A member of the flock snickered at the preacher's snafu, raised his hand and said, "That's not much of a trick. I could do that."

The minister didn't respond. However, the next Sunday he decided to repeat the text.

This time he did it properly, "And they fed five thousand men with five loaves of bread and two fishes." Smiling, the minister said to the noisy man, "Could you do that, Mr. Perkins?"

The member of the flock said, "I sure could."

"How would you do it?"

"With all the food I had left over from last Sunday!"

A large two-engine train was crossing America. After they had gone some distance one of the engines broke down. "No problem," the engineer thought, and carried on at half power. Farther on down the line, the other engine broke down, and the train came to a standstill. The engineer decided he should inform the passengers about why the train had stopped, and made the following announcement:

"Ladies and gentlemen, I have some good news and some bad news.

The bad news is that both engines have failed, and we will be stuck here for some time. The good news is that you decided to take the train and not fly."

While my brother-in-law was tapping away on his home computer, his ten-year-old daughter sneaked up behind him. Then she turned and ran into the kitchen, squealing to the rest of the family, "I know Daddy's password! I know Daddy's password!"

"What is it? her sisters asked eagerly.

Proudly she replied,

"Asterisk, asterisk, asterisk, asterisk, asterisk!"

A fifth grader looked downcast, so her teacher asked, "What's the problem, Carol? I hope it's not homework again." "Well, uh, yes, it is," replied Carol. "I was stupid and made my homework paper into a paper airplane." "Carol, you're right, that wasn't a very bright thing to do," said the teacher, "but this once I'll let you just unfold the paper and hand it in."

"Oh, but that won't work," said Carol, looking even sadder. "You see, the plane was hijacked."

At the beginning of my shift I placed a stethoscope on an elderly and slightly deaf female patient's anterior chest wall. "Big breaths," I instructed.

"Yes, they used to be," remorse the patient.
